EXECUTION OF ORDERS

1. Scope of the Policy

1.1. As an investment firm, the Company has established this policy to attain the best results for the Clients when implementing orders, trades, and instructions.

1.2. This policy summarizes all of the practical steps conducted to guarantee that the best possible execution is accomplished. This policy also aims to gain optimum results when accepting transactions on behalf of the Client. The Client agrees to the guidelines herein upon using the Company's services.

2. Execution Factors

2.1. For the Company to achieve the best possible results for Client orders, several factors are considered. These factors include price charges, speed, scope, probability of execution and settlement, nature of the order, and other elements regarding the implementation of orders.

2.2. In verifying the eligible distinction of these factors, the Company will use commercial experience and decision while also considering the classification of the Client (retail, professional, etc.). Among these, the Company will also consider the financial instruments' characteristics and the probable execution venues that the orders can be managed.

2.3. The Company considers the market price the most significant factor in achieving the best possible result. Furthermore, the Client acknowledges that there may be conditions, specific instruments, and particular markets where other factors can be considered more significant.

2.4. Refer to Chapter 6 of the Terms and Conditions for additional information regarding trades and orders.

3. Execution Venues

3.1. For every instrument that the Company executes on behalf of the Client, the Company reviews various trading venues on the basis of the annually provided liquidity.

3.2. In compliance with this policy, the Company may consider the use of one or more of the following venues:

- Regulated Markets
- Multilateral Trading Facilities
- Systematic Internalizing

Risk Disclaimer: Derivatives and other leveraged products come with risks when traded in the market and may not be suitable for all investors. You should consider whether you understand how derivatives work and if you can afford to take a high level of risk to your capital. Before trading with Greendax, you should read the Terms & Conditions and Risk Disclosure in their entirety.

- Third-party investment firms or affiliates
- Entities performing similar functions

3.3. The Company regularly evaluates the accessible execution venues and may provide or remove venues upon agreement to acquire optimum results regularly.

3.4. Certain financial instruments may only be isolated execution locations. In the case of executing a trade of financial instruments that are only a solitary execution location, the Company will assume that the best result has been delivered.

3.5. The Company uses the available price in the financial market. If the Client requests a trade or order instruction with a specific size or a limit order, the Company reserves the right to reject such order at its sole discretion.

3.6. The Company may disclose the Client's order or show the order to the relevant markets unless agreed not to on reasonable grounds. Orders may also be disclosed to the affiliates of the Company if deemed necessary.
